

Table with multiple columns containing financial data, including names, addresses, and investment details. The table is organized into sections, with the first section labeled '(上接C9版)'. It lists various individuals and companies, their roles, and their financial or investment activities.